jesca hoop (acoustic set)

thursday 4th february 6pm

we're pleased to welcome jesca hoop to resident for a very special acoustic performance ahead of her brighton show.

this beguiling californian has already gleaned a highly impressive array of admirers including tom waits & elbow's guy garvey, who collaborated on her recent debut album 'hunting my dress'. jesca's music is voracious, stopping for supplies here in folk, there in madrigals whilst the backing singing conjures up american-indian vocal semaphore one minute, sacred song the next.

"one of alternative folk-pop's most arresting recent arrivals, sings like an outcast angel & writes like a restless explorer" – the sunday times.
